---------------------------------- 'The Start Trek Cool Squares screensaver was designed to be a desktop tool for your background that shows a slideshow with Start Trek characters. Comments Hey, I'm trying to play back the start trek cool squares screensaver, but I can't see the images being displayed, I'm just seeing a gray box with blue background in it. I've downloaded the zip file for it to my desktop, and am running the setup.exe file, I've even tried running it under administrative priviliges, and it just won't work. Is there something I'm missing? Thanks Pete howdy Pete. I tried your screensaver on my netbook and it did not work either. I'm pretty sure it was the same issue. You'll have to try the older version. I had it working in beta form. I wasn't able to make the screensaver work with Win7. > howdy Pete. > I tried your screensaver on my netbook and it did not work either. Well, I tried the older version that you mentioned, and it does seem to work with Win7, but I just can't get it to show up when I log into my desktop with a different user profile. This is sort of a bummer, because I really like the look of it. > Well, I tried the older version that you mentioned, and it does seem to work with Win7, but I just can't get it to show up when I log into my desktop with a different user profile.
